CARTE BLANCHE

The French have been called as one of the most passionate people on earth. Be it their film culture or their exquisite cuisine, the French are a proud lot. One of their unique theories that seem to speak to us is "CARTE BLANCHE" - the complete freedom to act as one wishes.

The ideal self of a person is usually determined by their characteristic features. People from different walks of life continue to inspire us to be whoever we are. These role models can come in any shape, size, form, image and style. We are not talking about real life humans that give us hope but those role models that are reel but still play an important role in our lives teaching us that anything is possible.

Artbeat 2020 has been organized with an idea of celebrating these role models, who are just an aspect of an act but still creates an impression in our hearts and minds that seem to worship them for everything they are. "Carte Blanche" was chosen from the basic thought that we too imitate these characters and thus try to be them, the goodness in them, and the amazing yet unreal beings that they are.

We invite you with this thought in our mind that, we have the freedom to choose our role models and the boundaries set by their existence, colour, gender, sex and belief are all arbitrary and we accept you for whoever you want to be.
